GAMEPLAY ===== ■ Daytime Battle: This is a battle where the rules are simple. You will take a turn in one of three modes, either real-time, turn-based, or fixed time. The order of modes is random. ■ Challenge Battles: This is a battle mode where you will have to overcome the consequences of your actions in order to achieve victory. The orders of battles are randomly generated. Your victory conditions include increasing the level of your party, defeating the enemies and collecting the items, and acquiring the maximum rewards. ■ PvP Multiplayer: You can battle with players using PlayStation 4's Online functions. These battles are limited to eight players, and can only occur in real-time. Players will match up from among the players that are in offline as well as online. ■ Online Battles: You can battle with up to seven other people using PlayStation 4's Online functions. These battles are limited to eight players, and can occur in real-time. Players will match up from among the players that are in offline as well as online. It is issued at the request of the court as part of the judicial process. The document is signed by an authorized official, usually a deputy clerk of the court, and typically states that the subpoena is issued "By order of this court". The person who is being subpoenaed must appear at the stated time and place. The subpoena and any documents are usually provided to the person by the deputy clerk, who will generally accompany the person to the place where the person is to appear. A subpoena may be provided by the court, the prosecutor's office, or by a grand jury. Subpoenas issued by a grand jury are known as "grand jury subpoenas". Subpoenas issued by the prosecution are known as "prosecution subpoenas". This can be confusing because a prosecutor who is acting as the grand jury is technically the "prosecutor", and so if the prosecutor is also trying the case, there would be "prosecutor" and "grand jury" subpoenas
